

Cantigny Golf Academy Announces Winter/Spring Workshop Series

WHEATON, IL, January 29, 2012 — The Cantigny Golf Academy is offering an affordable evening workshop series designed to help golfers play better, stay healthy and get more enjoyment from the game.

The 90-minute workshops will be conducted twice each month by Dr. Paul Callaway, Cantigny Golf Academy's director of golf fitness, with assistance from other teaching professionals at the Academy. Instruction is presented in an interactive format appropriate for golfers of all ages and skill levels.

"Each session focuses on a key element of successful golf performance," said Callaway. "At the Academy we emphasize an integrated approach to learning the game. It's not just about professional swing instruction. We also cover practice techniques, choosing the right equipment, golf-specific physical training and the mental side of the game. All of these things fit together."

The cost per workshop is $10 for individuals or $15 for couples. Junior players under age 18 are free with a paying adult.

Golf Academy workshops begin at 7 pm. Here is the winter and spring schedule:

- The Pros' Secrets to a Stress-Free Swing
Thursday, February 9
- The "Mind-Body-Swing" Connection
Thursday, February 23
- Total Golf Conditioning for Improved Power and Distance
Wednesday, March 7
- How to Set and Achieve Your Goals
